GoPro Studio is a software application developed specifically for helping you import and preview GoPro media files, as well as edit videos using a set of dedicated tools for trimming, mixing, and adding titles and audio tracks. It works with GoPro, Canon, Nikon, and other constant frame rate H.264, MP4 and MOV4 formats. Plus, the tool is able to automatically import your GoPro media files. The utility requires QuickTime 7.6 or a higher version in order to run properly on the target system.

Features: Import GoPro files GoPro Studio boasts a clean and straightforward interface. A tutorial is revealed when you run the program for the first time in order to get acquainted with its key features. Streamlined interface GoPro Studio comes with support for a step-by-step approach when it comes to editing clips, so you can quickly get an idea about how to make the most out of its editing parameters. Videos can be imported by dragging and dropping them directly in the main window. You can create a list with clips and get info about duration, dimension, filename, and number of frames per second. In addition, you may remove the selected clips or clear the entire workspace with a single click. Viewing and trimming options The center of the working environment is responsible for previewing the video streams. Playback capabilities are implemented for helping you play or pause the current selection, seek for a position in the video streams, go one step forward or backward, adjust the volume, as well as enable a full screen display. In and out markers can be used for trimming videos. What's more, you are allowed to rotate or flip frames, rename files, pick the saving directory, and build a list with videos that you intend to convert. Advanced settings are hidden under the hood for helping you set the image size, adjust the frame rate, blend frames using motion blur effects, turn on deflickering options, pick the output file format (AVI or MOV), and tweak the video quality (low, medium, or high). Video editing features GoPro Studio comes with several templates that can be used for editing videos. You can take advantage of templates for working with preset settings (like music, edit points, and slow motion effects). You just need to add your own clips and you are done with the editing process in a few minutes. You can also define a movie from scratch by dragging media (e.g. AVI, MOV, MP3
