You need to add the start after the scan line and add a new list to put the scan lines into. Something like this:
sub ScanLine_capture (X,Y,str,txt) { ;#0:fills the list with the scan lines (check the scan line while it's being filled!) #scanlines = new List (); #x -= left; #move left on the list so it's easier to search for the correct one
;#0: assigns the start position for the scan line to be used as the start #x = new Point (0,0); ;#0: checks if

its time to start a scan line #if (x.y == 0) { #new TForm().list1.add (x.y,0,txt); #0: we start a new line $x = x.y; $y = x.y;

Updating Data in MySQL Using AJAX and PHP I have a form that when you submit it, it sends the email and message to my server. Everything goes fine when I submit the form manually. When I try to make it with AJAX, nothing happens. I think my PHP code is fine.

Here is the JS file I am using for my AJAX code:

function emailSubject() { var email = document.getElementById("email").value; var
message =
document.getElementById("message").value;
document.getElementById("subject").value = email + "
+ message;
document.getElementById("email").disabled = true;
document.getElementById("submit").disabled = true;
return false; } function submitEmail() { var email =
document.getElementById("email").value; var
message =
document.getElementById("message").value; var url =
""; document.getElementById("email").disabled = true; document.getElementById("submit").disabled = true; //var connection = new XMLHttpRequest(); //connection.open("GET", url, false);

```
//connection.send(); //var mystring = connection.responseText; //alert(mystring); //document.getElementById("email").value =
mystring;
//document.getElementById("email").disabled = true;
//document.getElementById("submit").disabled = true;
// connection.onreadystatechange =
handleServerResponse; //connection.send(null); var xmlhttp; if (window.XMLHttpRequest) { xmlhttp = new XMLHttpRequest(); } else if (window.ActiveXObject) { xmlhttp = new ActiveXObject("Microsoft.XMLHTTP"); } xmlhttp.onreadystatechange = function () f988f36e3a
